

Meet the Corvids

We currently have two groups of jackdaws in residence at the CCC.

Jackdaws are very social birds and live in large flocks.

They form pair bonds for life and are one of the most tolerant corvid species.

See if you can spot them preening each other or even sharing food!